If the tariff was not a benefit to the rich they would want it abolished.

Long couldn't support a wife until he was assured of a salary of $5,000.

This appointment of the railroad commissioner is satisfactorily received by the Kansas City shippers.

The Topeka Republican Flambeau Club has denounced Governor Morrill, "Kansas-Ashamed-of-its-Governor" is having a hard row to hoe.

The turning down of J. W. F. Hughes meets with universal praise everywhere. Of all the puffed up pieces of pomposity, "Col" Hughes took the cake.

THE GAZETTE has two subscribers to any other paper in Hutchinson one either at Sylvia, Sterling, Nickerson, Haven, Castleton, Pretty Prairie, Arlington, Abbeville or other point in the county.

The republicans of the lower house at Topeka show their love for the producing classes by refusing to lower the rate of interest. Everybody but the money-lender wants a high rate of interest of course.

WHAT is needed is a dollar that will stay at par with itself. In other words the only correct dollar would be one that would buy as much and no more commodities one year as another, all things being equal.

WICHITA has had a revival. The sheriff of the county became converted, and early last week he closed the front door of every joint in the city, and immediately left the place, not to do penance but to go to Topeka to lobby against the fee and salary bill. P. S. He forgot to close the back doors.

THE confirmation of Geo. T. Anthony was a far greater crime than his appointment. The four populist senators who voted with the republicans and Ed O'Bryan have placed themselves beyond the pale of all decency. George T. Anthony is an old fraud, and the position that he has been appointed to requires one thing that Anthony doesn't know anything about and that is honesty.

CHIEF JUSTICE (?) HORTON in his speech before the survivors of the "war of '93" said: "Had Hughes lived in France he would have been decorated with the insignia of the Legion of Honor. Had he lived in England he would have been knighted." The C. J. surely had been drinking hydrant water. Hughes was guilty of treason. Had he lived in England he would have been hanged. Had he lived in France instead of being decorated himself, his head only would have been used and that stuck on a pole.

There is no telling what congress will do with the financial suggestions in the president's latest message, but he has the satisfaction of knowing that the people of the United States approve of them by an enormous majority.

The above is not from a cookoo, although it reads much like the Kingman Democrat. Its from the Globe-Democrat, the leading exponent of republican principles of the western states. The Hutchinson News not excepted.

IN MEMORY OF THE REDS.

The survivors of '93 held a banquet last Friday evening. This was gotten up especially in the interest of J. W. F. Hughes, candidate for adjutant-general. Imagine the feelings of the fellows who put up the money for the banquet, when, four hours before the tables were to be spread Governor Morrill appoints another fellow.

LEWELLING VS. HORTON.

Sometimes we think that during the legislative "war" of '93 Lewelling acted unwisely, that he listened to counsel from men who had sinister motives, and that he relied on them more than he did on his, his own judgment; as we say, these thoughts often come to us, but, when he is attacked by a man, a corporate, tool like Chief Justice Horton, then we are proud of him. We know that to compare the two men is like comparing the light of a sun to that of the fire fly. There is no comparison.

Lewelling has a heart that is human, that beats for humanity, and nothing makes it so and as the sufferings of the people. His famous letter to the chiefs of police of the metropolitan cities of the state contains more of the teachings of Jesus Chr than Chief Justice Horton could ever learn, were he to live a million years and devote his whole time to the study of His teachings. Lewelling is a man of the people. Horton is a corporate tool, a hypocrite, a narrow hared brained, vacillating, selfish bigot, a "destroyer of widows houses" and an ass.

LET THERE BE AN INVESTIGATION

Senator Wolcott in the senate today openly charged the administration with selling bonds at 104 5 to a syndicate which is now selling the same bonds at 112. If that is true the government has been defrauded of nearly five million dollars. A thorough investigation by congress should be instituted at once, and if the charges prove true President Cleveland and his secretary of the treasury should be impeached and dismissed from office. It is bad enough to be forced to pay for the stupidity of a congress that has reduced the revenues below the expenses of the government, without being robbed by the men who have taken oath to protect the interests of the nation.—News.

The above article, double leaded, constituted the leading editorial in last Saturday's News. After several years in a newspaper office, and having access to all kinds and colors of political newspapers and magazines, Brother Sponsler seems, at last, to have absorbed enough knowledge to know that the finances of the country are being manipulated by a gang of gamblers and cutthroats by the side of whom the Dalton gang would appear as gentlemen. If Brother Sponsler will go back four years and investigate, even the files of the News, he will find the account of Secretary Windom's death, which occurred at a banquet given by the gold gamblers of Wall street in his honor, and whose death was as tragic as that of the historical Belshazzar.

We are with you Brother Sponsler in this fight against the policy of the present administration on the financial question. We go farther than you do. We want you tell your readers who are backing the president and treasurer; tell them that Tom Reed and Dalzell are his principal supporters in the house, while Old John Sherman, with Hoar, and Morrill, and Manderson, are his backers in the senate. Be honest, Sponsler, be a man, break the chains.

You know as well as we that the northeast wing politicians of the country aided and backed by the nabobs of England and Germany, and the hellions of Wall street are running the politics of the country and that your party is just as deep in the mud as the democrats are in the mire.

And further, that Cleveland and Carlisle are following exactly in the foot-prints of the Harrison administration, and that the very bonds that Mr. Carlisle sold were printed from the plates ordered by ex-Secretary Foster. Tell your readers this, and if you have any doubts about the policy of the former administrations read the little book, written in 1898 by Mrs. Emery, entitled, "The Seven Financial Conspiracies." This much abused book ridiculed by the leading members of your party in this state as being untrue which on being brought to the notice of Senator Sherman he acknowledged that every one of the acts were committed, but that they were for, maintaining the parity, strengthening the public credit, to "restore confidence," and other such balderdash, as was given in the late message of President Cleveland.

For 30 years every law enacted on finance has been in the interest of these fellows, while the common herd like you and I were kept in ignorance of the true fact by a "sham" battle over the tariff, negro domination, etc., and the result is, that we have both seen in the few years that we have lived the ground gradually slipping away from beneath the feet of the great middle class, today the pride of America, the "independent farmer" is yearly joining the crowds that turn to the cities, and is helping swell the ranks of the unemployed while the business men 95 per cent of them are compelled to bust, just for the sake of these cold-blooded, selfish hypocrites down east, who, own the larger per cent of the daily press, the ministers of the gospel and very nearly everything else. Its time dear brother to stop quarreling over little differences. The people are oppressed as never before in the history. Even the worst treated slave was not allowed to starve. There is hunger and poverty, and misery and crime and all or nearly all is caused by the taking from the producing classes an unjust amount of their products to maintain that costly luxury the gold dollar. Lets join hands and restore the government to the people.

Out of Its Line.

friends of the late editor of the GAZETTE:

A commendable work has been started by the Utah Press Association, in the organization of a State Historical Society. We should have such an institution in Utah and the foundation ought to be made before Statehood comes. Our historian Warren Foster is a good man for the position, and will take pride in safely handling everything placed in his care, but we should have a suitable building, at the expense of the state, for such purpose. Every newspaper ought to be kept on file and all publications of every nature should find a safe retreat in the in the Society rooms for a least one copy. Every public person should consider the proposition and use as much moral influence as possible to get the State Historical Society fully organized and satisfactorily endowed by proper legislation.—Manti Messenger.

The Logan Nation in its report of the meeting of the Press Association has the following to say of the Historical Society.

Warren Foster explained in an interesting manner the necessity of establishing a historical society in Utah and how the one in Kansas was founded and conducted and what a grand institution it was. The great importance of the matter was at once seen, and a lively discussion followed, the result being that Mr. Foster was appointed temporary historian. The society will be started by every newspaper, also all back numbers as far as possible. Every paper will be carefully filed for future reference and in time may be found in neat volumes. This society will soon prove of great importance, will contain numerous relics and will alone give the Utah Press Association a fame that will last as long as will Utah.

A Feast of Dead Heroes.

Topeka Press.

A banquet was given at the Copeland last night. It was a feast of the dead. The spirits of patriots feasting in their grave clothes. It was called a Douglass house banquet, but it was rather a most dismal rattling of the dry bones of the fallen heroes of the late unpleasantness. There were a few live men there, but they came with balm and a feather to soothe the sores of the wounded, sores not made in the "war," for the battle was bloodless, but made since in the scramble and stampede for offices which they never got. The glory of the departed heroes was the theme of the table. A chief justice of the great state of Kansas, who really don't know whether he is dead or alive politically, paid a glowing tribute to the departed Colonel Hughes, whose political ghost occupied a seat at the banquet. Said the C. J.: "If I were the governor of the state I would place Col. Hughes, on account of his bravery and his admirable stand for the constitution in opposition to an unlawful order of a chief executive at the head of the militia forces of the state. I would restore and add to the honors that were improperly and viciously wrested from him by a vindictive administration."

Then the ghosts all cheered and rattled their bones, and the gastly dead, R. B. Welch, George L. Douglass, Ed Hoch, Greenlee, and score of others who survived the battle of months but were assassinated in the tent of their all-god friends, all arose and from their grinning skulls came the doleful sounds, "me too." Balm was spread over their wounds, too, and the feast closed and the ghosts stalked back to their political graves. Ungrateful are republics.

The Delineator.

The February Delineator is the Mid-winter number, and its contents bear out the promise of the publishers that the Magazine for 1895 will be more interesting than ever. In the front of the book is the new Delineator March, by Monroe H. Rosenfield, which is immensely effective and sure to become popular. There is an illustrated article on Church fairs full of practical suggestions, and another descriptive of a picturesque Flag Fete, suitable for a Washington Birthday entertainment at Schools and Academies. There is a Good Night Drill, also for children and two delightful entertainments for the elders, called A Flower Party and A Valentine Masquerade. For the housewife there is a Seasonable Cookery, Hints on Serving Fruits and the continuation of the articles on the Home. The chapter on the Treatment of the Eyes and Ears will be of value to all who read it if its precepts are followed; the flower lover will find something of interest in Floral Work for Midwinter, the Tea Table Gossip is as entertaining as ever and The Newest Books are reviewed. The Fancy-Work Department is unusually attractive in this number, and there are papers on Crocheting, Hair-Pin Work, Knitting, etc.

PATENTS.

The Commissioner Submits His Report for the Year 1894.

INTERESTING FACTS GIVEN.

More Patents Issued to Citizens of Massachusetts Than to Those of Any Other State—What the Commissioner Recommends.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The commissioner of patents, John S. Seymour, has submitted his report for the year ended December 31, 1894. During 1894 there were received 38,987 applications for patents, 1,357 applications for designs, 93 applications for reissues, 2,286 caveats, 2,053 applications for trade marks, and 371 applications for labels. There were 20,803 patents granted, including designs, 64 patents reissued, and 1,806 trade marks registered. The number which expired was 12,020. The number of patents which were, by operation of law, forfeited for non-payment of the final fee, was 3,812. The total expenditures were $1,100,047.12. The receipts over expenditures were $87,392.46, and the total balance to the credit of the patent office in the treasury of the United States amounts to $4,369,133.91.

In proportion to population more patents were issued to citizens of Connecticut than to those of any other state—one to every 993 inhabitants. Next in order came Massachusetts with one to every 1,335 inhabitants, and the District of Columbia with one to every 1,377 inhabitants. New Jersey, Montana, Rhode Island, New York and Colorado followed in the order named. The fewest patents in proportion to the number of inhabitants were issued to citizens in South Carolina, Mississippi, North Carolina, Arkansas and Georgia, following in that order. As to foreign countries more were granted to subjects of England than to any other, 689; Germany, 583; Canada, 293; France, 193; some to subjects of Austro-Hungary, Belgium, China, Cuba, Denmark, Finland, Hawaii, India, Ireland, Italy, Mexico, Netherlands, New South Wales, New Zealand, Norway, Queensland, Russia, Scotland, Serbia, South Australia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Venezuela and Victoria, and one each to citizens respectively of British Guinea, Chili, Colombia, Ecuador, Guatemala, Natal, New Providence, New Peru and Porto Rico.

The report says that an average of 711 original cases and 1,643 amended cases were received each week. None of the thirty-three examining divisions in the office was in arrears more than one month so that an application for a patent properly filed so as to be immediately available for adjudication might be received and granted within a month.

After referring at some length to various practices by which applications without merit were kept for years before the bureau and recommending a remedy for this practice, the commissioner says: "I respectfully reiterate my former recommendation that the working force of the patent office be increased by $64,000 in order that the work of classification, which now falls to the present examining corps, may be assigned to the increased force. Perfect classification is the indispensable condition upon which reasonably accurate examinations upon the question of novelty may be made. If it were possible to make this accurate examination upon the question of novelty very much litigation concerning patents would be avoided."

Office of THE PIONEER PRESS COMPANY, C. W. HONICK, Sept. 7, 1894.

Eureka Chemical and Mfg Co., La. Cross, Wis. Dear Sirs—I have been a tobacco fiend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, and my physician told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I recently learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and today consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it. Yours very truly, C. W. HONICK.
